ISSUE OF DANCING IN SCHOOLS RAISED

C. S. Martin, Member of Board, Starts Investigation by His Statements.

INFORMATION DESIRED

Hammond Asks if Grizzly Bear and Turkey Trot Are in Vogue.

Are the rooms of the city's public schools to resound only during school hours to the dancing of folk dances by the care-free children, or are they after shool hours to echo with the shythm of the two-step and the turkey trot. in which the careworn teachers may wer dip at the shrine of Terpsichore, or ar they to hum with the caechination that ttends on high teas?

This difficult problem was put up t the board of education at its regular nouthly meeting last night.

So unexpectedly did the matter com-in that the board was unprepared to make any declaration as to what its effect would be. The matter was left to future consideration.

After the board had transacted its contine business and fir. Douglas, one of its members, had moved to adjourn C. S. Martin, another member, areas before the motion to adjourn was put and #### Direct Interrogation.

"Refere we adjourn I should like to ask question, is the board going to sanc-len dancing in the schoolrooms and ther forms of entertainment after school cours? What is to be our policy? I do d President Hammond.

"I cannot say in regard to that," realled Mr. Martin. "I never saw the Turevy Trot or the Grizzly Bear dance."
Continuing Mr. Martin suggested that the use of the rooms for these informal balls and pink teas threw added work on the justices and delayed the cleaning up of the rooms after school. Mr. Martin said that he had been further informed that sometimes folk dances were indudged in for the instruction of teachets.

Asks Specification.

Asks Specification.

Director Mathoninah Thomas asked. "Have you a list of the schools where these things are indulged in. Mr. Martin? It seems to me that before we can take any action we ought to have something specific to consider."

No. Mr. Thomas," was the reply. "I have no specific list. I did not bring the matter up as a complaint, but merely to ascertain what polley in regard to it the board wanted to pursue. Mr. Folland, our superintendent of buildings had spoken in regard to it to melle is here and perhaps can tell us something about it."

Mr. Folland then told the board of an instance where a principal had complained that the room had not been dusted. When the jamior was asked to explain he alleged that the room had incent med at the day before by some of the reachers as a place of entertainment. "When we go to the principals," continued Superintendent Folland, "some of them say that the practice has been going on so long that they had been taked it as a matter of course and had never thought of making continuals."

Mr. Thomas reiterated that he thought the board could do nothing until some-thing specific had been brought before it.

Seek Information.

The discussion ended with an instruc-tion by President Hammond to Superin tendent Folland to secure a list of the schools where dancing and other forms of amusement were indulged to after school hours and being it before the board. In the matter of the east side high school In the matter of the east side high school Director Glauque reported that the building committee had been working hard on the specifications of the new building and as thought they would be able to make a report to the board in a few days on the probable cost and be ready to advertise for bids. He thought that the cost could be held within the original estimate.

The board approved the $500,000 bond of Tressurer S. A. Whitney and authorized the purchase of various supplies for the different schools.

ized the purchase of various supports the different schools.

"A resolution was passed asking the city commission to abate its claim for water rent for water furnished the schools. It is thought by the board that inasmuch as the city owns the water system water should be supplied the schools free of charge. A resolution was also passed that in the event the use of electric lighting should be adonted the current should be furnished the schools on the same basis that is given to the city.

TRIP IS PLANNED BY "U" ENGINEERS

At a meeting of the mining engineers at the University of Utah yesterday, it was decided to take practically the same trip this year as was taken by last year's seniors. The miners will leave for San Francisco, either on May 11 or 15. They will go from Salt Lake to Las Vegas, from Las Vegas to Goldfield, from Goldfield to Tonopah, from Tonopah to Virginia City and from there to San Francisco. They will return from San Francisco. They will return from San Francisco over the Western Pacific and will stop over at Growlile on their return. In Goldfield and Tonopah they will see the latest methods employed in milling and the cyanide process. Deep mining and tunneling will be studied in Virginia City, along with the most improved methods of shuft ventilating. The big new smelters in San Francisco and the metallurgy works at Colby, Cal., will be visited.

Beautiful Modern Building for Amelia Folsom Young Corner

Building for Stores and Apartments to Be Erected at Cost of $55,000.

N the property formerly owned by the late Harriet Amelia Fol som Young, corner of South Temple and First West streets the South Temple Realty company wil immediately proceed to erect a mod ern building to cost $55,000.

This structure is to be 60x130 feet, then dancing in the schoolrooms and other forms of entertainment after school hours? What is to be our police? I do not ask in a spirit of complaint, but makely call the attention of the board to a practice which, I am told is on the increase. At some of the schools, including those where domestic science is taught and banquets are given occasionally to specially invited queste, I am informed that piano and orchestra are brought into play and that there is a tripping of the light, fantastic lose. "Do they dance the Turkey Trot and the Grizzly Rear, Mr. Martin?" interrupting Fresident Hammond.

even larger number of letters and other bits of evidence bearing similarly upor was charged with having persuaded Segal to accept a loan of $1,250,000 from him on such hard conditions as to enable the sugar "frust" to goldde up Segal's just completed refinery in Philadelpina Harned's part is alleged to be that he acted as attorney in this transaction.

Cites Tenth Commandment.

District Attorney Wise, in presenting he government's side to the jury, said: he government's side to the jury, said:

The issue at stake in this case is simple and old as Christianity itself. It is the tenth commandment, "Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's house." That is the main issue, and it will have to be upheld by us for the safety of future generations. For twenty years these men were identified with the American Sugar Refining company, a concern which controlled 75 per cent of the manufacture and the sale of sugar in the United States. They were enabled to do this by their monopolistic metics.

Mr. Wise then declared that he woul

Mr. Wise then declared that he would produce abundant evidence to show how "the new magnificent plant of the Pennsylvania Sugar Religing company had been closed by the Americann Sugar Refining company through the conspiracy charged."

Persons in account aftice he said to be provided.

Persons in several cities, he said, had invested in this new company and when the defendant closed it up it not only deprived the investors of their profits but restrained trade and commerce, h

Calls Them Sneaks.

During the course of construction of this refinery in Philadelphia, these men, sneaking down to Philadelphia from New York, watched every brick, every lift of machinery, that went into that refinery, and then, coming back, the sneaks went to the beard of the American Sugar Refining company and reported to Mr. Haverneyer, Henry O. Haverneyer, Washington B. Thomas and others sat together and schemed how they could knock the props out from under the refinery at the right fine. They wanted to wait until Segal had put all the money he could get into the refinery, and they planned then to wrest the stock from him by loaning him money, getting the stock of the concern as security. They watched that refinery like a cat watches a mouse, and when the right time came jumped on the poor little mouse and gobbled it up.

To Protect People.

To Protect People.

I am not here to protect the out-raged Segal. I am here to protect the people of the United States of America against such deeds as this, which interfere with our trade with foreign countries, and also citizens in their fight to make a living.

make a living.

In closing his presentation. Mr. Wise said he would show not so much by outside witnesses as by the defendants themselves that they were guilty of a deliberate conspiracy to restrain trade. "They had great power." he declared, and for years they used that power to crush smaller rivals from coast to coast. Every mothers som of there, up to the very day this indictment was found, did everything in his power to control this crushing process."

The trial will be resumed tomorrow.
